ORANGE COUNTY HEALTH DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEE NAMED NORTH CAROLINA ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH SUPERVISOR OF THE YEAR

Orange County, NC (April 22, 2014) – The North Carolina Environmental Health Supervisor’s Association has named Connie Pixley as the 2014 North Carolina Environmental Health Supervisor of the Year. Connie is the Environmental Health Food and Lodging Supervisor for the Orange County Health Department. The award was presented on Monday, April 14, during the Association’s annual conference.

Connie has worked in the field of Environmental Health for more than 25 years, serving both at the state and local level. She was nominated by the team of environmental health specialists she supervises in Orange County. Her nomination cited her active participation and outspoken stand for the professional development of Environmental Health Specialists throughout North Carolina; her involvement in the passage of legislation leading Environmental Health into the regulation of well construction and sampling statewide; and her dedication, compassion, and work ethic as a supervisor to her staff.

Connie Pixley has served as the Environmental Health Food and Lodging Supervisor for the Orange County Health Department since 2010.
