FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ORANGE COUNTY DEPARTMENT DIRECTORS COMPLETE UNC COUNTY ADMINISTRATION COURSE

ORANGE COUNTY, NC (April 24, 2013)—The Orange County Manager's Office is pleased to announce two department directors have met the requirements to graduate from the County Administration Course of the School of Government at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Human Resources Director Nicole Clark and Orange County Library Director Lucinda Munger are among the 98 officials in the 2012-2013 graduating class.

The County Administration program is designed for managers, department heads and officials whose responsibilities require a broad understanding of functions beyond individual areas of specialization.

Participants commit to 150 hours of instruction in the areas of North Carolina local government law, organization and management, finance and budgeting, employment law and administration, planning and regulation of development, and the delivery of specific city or county services.

Since this course began in 1964, more than 2,900 officials have completed the program.

For more information about the Administration Course of the School of Government, please contact Gregory S. Allison, director of municipal and county administration at 919.966.4376.
