FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

OCPL CARRBORO BRANCH LIBRARY TO HOST STORYTELLING PROGRAM

ORANGE COUNTY, NC (October 29, 2013) — The community is invited to hear folk tales from around the world on Saturday, November 2 at 10:30 a.m. at the OCPL Carrboro Branch Library.

The free storytelling performance is a special presentation by the UNC Story Squad. The Story Squad is comprised of graduate students from the University's School of Library and Information Science program.

The folk tales at the performance are geared toward preschool-age and younger elementary school children, but older children and adults should enjoy them as well.

The mission of the UNC Story Squad is to help young children develop pre-literacy skills and help older children understand story structure, build visual literacy skills and develop imagination.

The OCPL Carrboro Branch Library holds storytimes each Saturday morning at its location in McDougle Middle School at 900 Old Fayetteville Rd. in Chapel Hill.
