Instructions for Formal Appeal Form

1. Indicate your relationship to the owner of the property or to the property itself.
2. Review your property characteristics on our website at <https://property.spatalest.com/nc/orange/#/> for discrepancies.
3. Share with us your opinion of the market value of the property as of January 1, 2021.
4. Tell us how you developed your opinion of the market value that you provided in #3.
5. Let us know if you have a recent appraisal of your property. Provide a copy with your appeal.
6. If the property is currently listed for sale or has been recently listed for sale, let us know the listed price and the date it was listed. While listings are asking prices and are not indicators of market value, we would like to have that information to take into consideration.
7. If you recently purchased this property, share that information with us so that we can consider it. Also indicate if the property has changed since the purchase (i.e. new additions, renovations, demolitions, etc). A recent sale price that differs from the tax value does not necessarily indicate that a change is warranted. Our legislative mandate is to appraise property at a fair market value which is the most probable price a property would bring in a competitive and open market. We must review all sales to determine the most probable price, which may or may not be the same as your purchase price.
8. If this is a residential property, please provide the requested information.
9. If this is an income-producing property, submit a copy of your income and expense data with your appeal. Income and expense information is confidential and will be treated as such.
10. Indicate whether the lot is improved or vacant. If this lot is vacant and there are reasons why it could not be improved, please explain. Attach any supporting documentation that you may have.
11. Please share any additional information in support of your opinion of value. Keep in mind that your opinion of value should be based on fair market value which is the most probable price a property would bring in a competitive and open market. The opinion of value should not be based on the percentage change from the prior value and should be as of January 1, 2021, the date of the most recent Countywide revaluation.
12. Please verify your name and mailing address information.
13. Please provide the contact information for this appeal.

Once your written Notice of Appeal to the Board of Equalization and Review (Board) is received and processed, you will be contacted with an appointment date and time. You may also opt to have your information considered without personally appearing before the Board.

After your evidence has been presented, and at a later time set aside by the Board, all of the relevant data presented will be considered and the Board will reach a decision. The Notice of Decision is mailed to the taxpayer after the adjournment of the Board.

Upon receiving the Board's Notice of Decision, you have the option to further appeal to the North Carolina Property Tax Commission (NCPTC). You must appeal to the NCPTC in writing within 30 days of the notification from the Board. Information on how to appeal to the NCPTC is included in the Notice of Decision. You may go online for more information on the NCPTC at <http://www.dor.state.nc.us/taxes/property/ptc.html>.

The Board of Equalization and Review consists of Orange County residents appointed by the Orange County Board of Commissioners. The job of these residents is to consider the information that you provide, and from that, determine a fair and equitable tax value.

The assessed value estimated by the Tax Office is based on the market value as of the date of the most recent revaluation. That date is January 1, 2021. Values remain unchanged during the revaluation cycle unless there are changes made to the property such as subdivisions, merges, new construction, or renovations to name a few.

North Carolina General Statutes require that the Board of Equalization and Review presume that the assessed value is correct until you prove otherwise. For the Board to make an adjustment in value you must provide evidence that the tax value is incorrect.

Helpful documentation to include: pictures of serious deficiencies of the property, comparable sales (preferably from the same neighborhood or area).

If you are appealing your land value because it cannot be developed due to unsuitable soils and does not have access to public sewer, then you should supply the Board with copies of any documentation that states that the property is not suitable for an on-site wastewater system installation. You may acquire such documentation from the Orange County Environmental Health Department, 131 West Margaret Lane in Hillsborough. Phone number is (919) 245-2360.

For commercial properties – when hearing appeals on commercial or income producing properties, there will typically be a certified general appraiser sitting on the Board. Appraisals including all three approaches to value are strongly urged. In the absence of an appraisal, income and expense reports with well-documented rents, vacancy rates, expenses, and well-supported capitalization rates are suggested. Recent comparable sales plus any recent cost data would also be helpful.
